Dropshipping Automation

Dropshipping System Overview

- A dropshipping management system can be configured using multiple StoreAutomator accounts
- StoreAutomator can manage product data and order flow between accounts
- A StoreAutomator account can be the supplier for another account
- This is handled through our Reseller Channel on the supplier account
- Reseller channels connect to a specific supplier warehouse on the target account in a multiple warehouse setup.
- Orders and tracking information flow from the originating channel on the seller account, all the way to the supplier account and vice versa.
